The Kaye Edmonton Clinic charted new territory in the field of ambulatory care, teaching, and service delivery. A unique collaboration with Alberta Health Services and the University of Alberta, the vision was to create a state-of-the-art facility for patient and learning-centered care. DIALOG provided programming and master planning services, interior design in public spaces, base building, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering and structural engineering in collaboration with partners. Kaye Edmonton Clinic brings together diagnostic imaging, a collection lab, surgical and transplant clinics, a sports medicine clinic, and Stollery Children's Hospital clinical services.
